

International Congress
« PLASTICS AND ELASTOMERS FOR A HIGH PERFORMANCE AND SUSTAINABLE BUILDING »

Wednesday 6 and Thursday 7 November 2013

In Espace Hamelin – 17, rue de l'Amiral Hamelin – Paris 16^{ème}

CALL FOR PAPERS

Thanks to their specific characteristics, plastics and elastomers used in building and construction (thermoplastics, thermosets, elastomers, adhesives, coatings, water-proofing and insulation products, ...) are able to fulfill the new requirements and expectations of Society : energy efficiency, comfort, safety, creativity/design flexibility, performances and sustainability.

In Europe, building and construction represent the end use for 25% of plastics applications and 10% for elastomers.

The international congress « Plastics and elastomers for a high performance and sustainable building », organized by SFIP, in partnership with AFICEP, ELASTOPOLE, ORGAGEC and PlasticsEurope, will highlight the main uses, performances and latest innovations offered by these materials.

Users, converters, raw materials producers, part manufacturers and research & development laboratories will illustrate the huge benefits of plastics and rubbers to comply with current and future needs and ongoing developments.

This congress will focus on and cover the following topics :

Topic 1 – Energy efficiency

Topic 2 – Comfort and safety

Topic 3 – Design and functionality

Topic 4 – Performances and sustainability

If your company is interested in giving a paper, please use the form on page 2 to send in your proposal already now, but no later than 15 April 2013
